

Announcing the Public Research Fellows Fall Series

With the support of a National Endowment for the Humanities grant and the College of Arts & Sciences, PRF is hosting a number of events in 2022-23 under the theme "Engaging Humanities." Across the year we are featuring examples of innovative humanities-based inquiry that connects with non-humanities disciplines and wider publics. Fall events include:

- Poetry & Vitality Workshop with Naomi Shihab Nye: M 9/12, 6:00-7:30pm, Bauccio Dining Room
- Collaborative Teaching in the Core Workshop: Th 9/15, 2:30-3:45, Franz 222
- Campus Conversation: Reimagining Readiness: W 10/26, 4:00-5:30pm, Teske Dining Room
- Faculty Lunch Discussions: Th 10/6, 1:00-2:30pm and F 11/4, 11:45-1:15pm, Teske Dining Room

Collaborative Teaching in the Core

Th, 9/15, 2:30-3:45pm, Franz 222

Are you interested in developing interdisciplinary courses with your colleagues but need some support in taking the first steps? Join us for this interactive workshop where you can learn about designing a Core X course using engaged humanities practices and find out about support for turning your idea into a concrete plan. Most of the session will be devoted to interdisciplinary speed networking sessions with colleagues from across the University. Faculty from CAS as well as the professional schools are welcome!

Campus Conversation: Reimagining Readiness

Wed., 10/26, 4:00-5:30pm, Teske Dining Room

The term "readiness" has become a buzzword in higher education as colleges seek to demonstrate how they prepare students for the professional world--but what do we mean by "readiness"? PRF will host a guided small group conversation with students, staff, and faculty to think together about the many ways we can be "ready" to meet the world.

Faculty Lunch Discussions

The engaged humanities are a broad, complex field that intersect with many of the most urgent (and interesting) debates in higher education. The program will host two lunches this semester to bring faculty together to discuss issues related to engagement, interdisciplinarity, and the role of education in the world today. Take a break from your usual schedule and join your colleagues in lively discussion at one of these lunches (our treat!):

Thursday, 10/6, 1-2:30pm, Teske Dining Room

Engaged Humanities at UP: How Can We Grow Them?

Friday, 11/4, 11:45-1:15pm, Teske Dining Room

Reading (TBA) on Engagement, Activism, and the Humanities
